WILL HOLD A MEETING WITH ELLSWORTH COLLIERIES TONIGHT

Local Hospital Campaign Now Showing Greater Interest Than Ever

MET WITH WOMEN ON SUNDAY

A meeting in the interest of the new building for the Charleroi-Monessen hospital will be held at the office of the Ellsworth Coal company, at Ellsworth, this evening. Among those who will attend from Charleroi will be Burgess S. L. Woodward, James S. Patten, chairman of the Industrial Division of the campaign, H. A. Heuple of the industrial committee, and Mark G. Holtzman, one of the organizers of the campaign.

At this meeting the various phases of the campaign will be discussed, and the portion of the responsibility that Ellsworth community should undertake presented. The local manager of the coal company, as well as a number of leading officials and citizens are expected to be present, and it is hoped to have the campaign placed under way in that community within a few days. Ellsworth is a community that would benefit by an enlarged hospital and the local committee anticipates considerable encouragement from that section of the county.

Sunday evening a meeting was held with a committee from the Woman's Hospital Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. H. A. Heuple, at which time details of the campaign were gone over very thoroughly and all points explained. The women were greatly pleased with the plan of campaign and gave their unreserved endorsement to the project. They will be active in the campaign.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock a meeting of the board of directors of the hospital, together with the general committee, will be held at general headquarters in the borough building at which time matters of the utmost importance to the campaign will be discussed. At this meeting it is hoped to have every member of the board of directors and all of the general committee, so that all details can be explained to a full board and a full committee.

Other meetings of an important character will be held during the week, preliminary to the week of intense solicitation which is scheduled to begin on Monday next. The organizers report an increasing public sentiment in favor of the undertaking, which is expected to secure splendid results when the soliciting campaign begins next week.

W. C. Clark and James Stevenson were interested spectators at the Scottish picnic held at Kennywood park, on Saturdaay last.

Miss Priscilla Murray of Shady avenue has returned from a two week vacation spent with relatives at Youngstown, Ohio.

WESTMORELAND JAIL BEING DEPOPULATED

There are but 77 inmates in the Westmoreland county jail, and for three days last week no new prisoners were received. A number of prisoners in the county jail are being employed on the Menonher highway. At the county home the number of insanity cases attributed to overindulgence in intoxicants has decreased to 15.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR EXAMINATIONS

The schedule for the examination for state permanent certificates, to be held August 6, 7 and 8, in the Third ward school building, Washington, has been arranged as follows:

Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 6: Enrollment, 12:45 o'clock, when applicants will hand in name, permanent address, number of terms, experience, a valid professional certificate, health certificates if taking the second group of finals, names of books on pedagogy selected.

Wednesday afternoon: 1 o'clock the examination will begin, with sessions Thursday morning at 8 o'clock in the afternoon at 1 o'clock and sessions on Friday at the same hour.

The committee in charge of the examination is composed of R. M. Archibald of Waynesburg; R. D. Dean of Monongahela, and H. S. Kuder of Washington.

FIREMEN TO MEET IN NEW QUARTERS

The Charleroi firemen will hold their first meeting in their new quarters, municipal building, Fourth street and Fallowfield avenue, Tuesday evening. Since the first of January the firemen have been holding their meetings in the I. O. O. F. Hall, but last month they had to dispense with this feature because the hall was taken for other purposes.

The firemen have had no regular meeting place since April, 1918, at which time the borough gave up possession of the old borough building and engine house on Fallowfield avenue, but with the completion of the new building the men now have fine quarters, a feature they greatly appreciate. It is the purpose of the firemen to fit up their new quarters in a comfortable manner, not only with pool tables for amusement, but likewise with books and other reading material, while it is possible that other features which will make the rooms attractive will be added. It is expected that a large attendance will feature the meeting tomorrow evening.

First Union Services Were Well Attended

The first union serivce of the month of August, during which the Protestant churches of Charleroi will unite in the evening service, was held on Sabbath evening in the Christian church and was largely attended. The sermon was preached by the Rev. John R. Burson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Rev. Burson took for his theme, "A Remedy for World Ills," saying that the gospel message should be heard in these days of reconstruction. Affirming that the gospel is for all mankind, Rev. Burson said that the church boards were sending christian carpenters, masons and builders to rebuild the world. "Why does God permit trouble? has been asked many times during the war. Trouble means opportunity, said the speaker, and told of some blessings out of the late war. He named, first, a new horror of cruelty; second, new waves of compassion in gifts and service; third, a new idea of obedience, and fourth, new determination to fight the vice that rot men's souls.

In speaking of our modern problems, he named, first, the profiteer; second, the ultra-radicals; third, capital vs. labor; fourth, vicious waves of crime.

Rev. Burson said everyone wanted, sincerely, some substitute for war. Whether the league in its present form was adopted or not he said, Congress ought to consider it well. In closing Rev. Burson said that the oriental religions were failing and that christianity was destined to be the religion for all the world.

DONORA MAN KILLED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

In making a sharp turn to avoid a collision with another automobile at Addison, on the national pike, George Newmyer, aged 40 years, driver of one machine, was killed, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Grant, all of Donora, were injured, when the machine overturned.

Newmyer died of a broken neck when the steering wheel struck his neck. Mr. and Mrs. Grant were helped from under the machine by other automobilists, shortly after the accident occurred. They escaped serious injuries. Two children of the Grants were thrown clear of the car and escaped injury.

The party was on its way from a camp at Oakland, Md., to Brownsville, to meet Mr. Newmyer's daughters, who were waiting to be taken to the camp. Mr. Newmeyer was the night foreman of the Donora Southern railroad shops at Donora. The machine was destroyed when it caught fire shortly after it overturned.

WILL HOLD FIRM TO CONTRACT BOND

A refusal on the part of the Donora Construction company to continue with contracts for paving made with the borough of Monessen several months ago, in which it declared that to continue with the contracts at the present time would mean that the company would have to go into bankruptcy, led to a decision on the part of the Monessen council to attempt to collect from the bonding company, which was security on the contracts of the Donora firm.

In the communication to the Monessen council the Donora firm stated that prices of material and labor have increased to such an extent that the contracts cannot be carried out. The borough, it is said has made several attempts to come to terms with the construction company, but without results and will now advertise for bids to complete the work, which amounts to about $75,000.

STATE POLICE MAKE AN IMPORTANT ARREST

Two young men of Finleyville, Harold Simon and Aruthur Zell, were held up at the point of a gun while on their way to Monongahela from Bentleyville Saturday midnight. The young men were in an automobile and when near Frye station a man stepped out in the raod and commanded them to stop, at the same time pointing a gun at the young men. They obeyed, and still covering both of the young men with a gun the highwayman relieved the two of all their money, amounting to about $75. They were then allowed to proceed on their way.

The State Police at Monongahela were notified and on Sunday Sergeant J. M. Jmcoskey arrested Anthony Bertoletti of the Frye station section who was taken before Simon and Zell who identified Bertoletti as the man who held them up. The prisoner was then held for a hearing before Alderman DeWitt C. Parkinson.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING AT FAYETTE CITY

A very pretty ceremony featured the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Baxter of Fayette City and Nicholas Hawthorne of Bridgeville which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James Baxter, in Fayette City, at 8:30 o'clock last Friday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. D. Rudolph pastor of the Methodist church at Fayette City. The attendants were Miss Margaret Ludlam and Charles Baxter. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorne left for Cleveland, where they will make their future home. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lough and children of Bridgeville, Mrs. Samuel Gaskill and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Foulks and son of Lock Four and Daniel Kennedy of Belle Vernon.

Miss Freda Whitehead, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Swick, in Boston, Mass., for the past two weeks, returned home Sunday morning.

AUTOMOBILE PARKING ON OUR STREETS IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM

FINED FOR ALLOWING YOUTH TO RUN AUTO

Sam Abraham was before the Burgess of Monessen last Friday charged with allowing his 11-year-old son to operate an automobile. Abraham entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was fined $10 and costs. At the hearing he became quite disorderly and an additional charge was made against him, and he was compelled to pay a fine of $5 and costs in addition to the other.

WILL BEGIN FIGHT ON SUGAR PRICES

Authority has been asked by John A. McKee, food administrator for Lawrence county during the war, to put a stop to sugar profiteering in the New Castle district. Following numerous complaints registered with him by wholesalers and merchants of New Castle that an outside business house was attempting to sell sugar there, wholesale, at $13.50 to $13.70 a hundred weight, he reported the matter to the United States Sugar Equilization Board at New York.

He was informed regulations still exist that permit only a fair profit and that sugar could be wholesaled at 10 cents a pound, permitting it to be retailed at 11 cents a pound. He was also informed that all cases of flagrant profiteering in sugar would be prosecuted. As soan as he secures definite authority to act, he will start the prosecutions of all sugar selling concerns who ask a price in excess of that by the equalization board.

A PRETTY WEDDING ON SATURDAY EVENING

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, in the study of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, when Eva Gelder of Charleroi became the bride of Elmer Hogg, of Monessen. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties by the pastor of the church, the Rev. John R. Burson. The bride was gowned in a traveling suit of blue and wore a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Grace Gelder, of Charleroi, was bridesmaid, and Joseph Guder of Belle Vernon, was best man. The study was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and ferns and made a pretty background for the event. In accord with the wishes of the family, owing to the recent serious illness of Matthew Gelder, father of the bride, the guest list was very small. Mrs. Hogg has been recently in the employ of the Prudential Insurance company in the Charleroi office, while Mr. Hogg is an employe of the Tri-Cities garage of Monessen. Mr. and Mrs. Hogg will make their future home in Belle Vernon.

Mrs. Frank Welch returned home Saturday evening from Johnstown, where she had been visiting with the family of Rev. C. A. Hartung.

Congestion Saturday Night Makes Traffic Difficult on Avenues

SHOULD SECURE PARKING SPACE

Saturday evening last automobiles were parked so densely on Fallowfield avenue that for a time street car traffic was halted while the police cleared the streets sufficiently to allow the cars to pass. On certain portions of McKean avenue conditions were almost as bad, while Fifth street was almost impossible to cross the street because of the many machines parked there. This condition of affairs has been growing more and more acute of late, and it has been giving the borough authorities a great deal of concern.

It is generally admitted that there should be some relief from this condition, which appears to be growing worse instead of better. It is known that visitors and shoppers prefer to park their machines on the down-town streets, at some point where they can keep an eye on it or where it will be under a more direct supervision of the police. It is contended that many people do not park on Washington avenue and other streets outside of the business district for fear of robbery and parking down town is simply a case of "safety first."

It is now suggested that the borough authorities take up with the Pennsylvania railroad the question of obtaining permission to park cars on Saturday nights on the driveways in the local freight yards. These spacious streets could accommodate hundreds of machines, where cars could be checked and where they could be placed under constant police supervision. If permission could be secured from the railroad company the borough could adopt such regulations as would require automobiles to be parked on railroad property and in this manner the streets be relieved of the congestion which is now becoming greater every Saturday evening.

AN UNPRECEDENTED SITUATION

The man in the street would say that "the anti-saloon league pulls the strings and Congress dances like mad." Seeking to give expression to the same general idea ,the Baltimore Sun says: "This country has never witnessed such an extraordinary spectacle as was staged in the House of Representatives in connection with the Volstead bill designed to enforce prohibition. The war is over and attention is now focussed upon Washington; the battle is concentrated in one spot, everybody in the limelight and everybody put on record, and with none of the supposed advantage which was thought to accrue to the prohibitionists (during the war) from attacking the enemy in detail and free from too much general publicity; and a large proportion of the soldier voters home again. Yet in spite of these apparently changed conditions, in spite of the vigorous protests from labor unions and from unorganized bodies of citizens in nearly every part of the country, and in spite of the fierce criticisms of not a few influential newspapers, the prohibitionists, if we are to judge from what is happening in Congres, are ten-fold stronger than ever."

Concerning this "amazing and unparalleled expression of national excentricity or national development," the Sun says further: "What is demonstrated, so far as Congress and this particular subject are concerned, is that the prohibitionists are our national law givers. They are the absolute dictators from whom Congress receives its orders. Never before has there been such complete, unquestioning, slavish subserviency to a will outside of Congress. The people have not been so meekly and promptly obeyed, no matter how loudly they have thundered at elections. Congressmen have often forgotten or side stepped the people's orders. but they do not dare to disregard the orders of the prohibition chiefs of staff. A few of them protest at the drastic program of enforcement. but most of these do so with trembling knees and blanched faces. They are afraid even to adjourn without the consent of the Third House yatching them from the galleries. Prohibition has established a reign of terror and terrorism. which has reduced the large majority of Congressmen to a condition of mental serfdom. They no longer have the courage to call their souls their own."

Putting aside for the moment the question of the merits or demerits of national prohibition and merely referring to the conditions as they appear, the Sun continues: "If we thought Congress had been reformed and converted by prohibition. the country might welcome it as a blessing to that body. if not to everyone else. But the strength of prohibition in Congress is not due to the political or moral virtue of Congressmen but to their lack of it. The prohibitionists have not the majority of them theretofore owned. They are for prohibition and all its laws, not so much because they believe in it as because they are afraid of the prohibition influences and forces, convinced that the prohibitionists are strong enough to punish them and put them out of political business if they revolt. and that anti-prohibition sentiment may safely be ignored."

Whether we agree or disagree with this view of an extraordinary situation, it must be patent to the dullest comprehension not only that the sentiment against intoxicants is more widespread among the people than was believed but that the Anti-Saloon League is one of the most powerful organizations the world has ever seen.

THE COST OF LIVING

The greatest question before the American people today, side-tracking for the time being the consideration of the covenant of the league of nations. is the high cost of living. From east to west, and from north to south the cost of living is the one general topic of conversation. People everywhere discuss it and are demanding amelioration of conditions. Profiteering is charged, but just where to place the responsibility is the difficult feature of the affair. In some quarters it is asserted that the government's guaranteed price of wheat is the cause for the greater portion of this excessive cost of living now imposed upon the people. They argue that if the government would take the wheat crop at the guaranteed price and then sell it at the market price, that it would have the greatest tendency to bring down price of foodstuffs. for it appears that wheat is the great controlling factor in living expenses. Whether this be true or not we are not prepared to say, but we do know that the people are insistent that costs must fall. Present living conditions are causing more unrest in the country than we have had in a generation. The government can give consideration to no greater problem. The people want to find the profiteer and then put him out of business.

The State Police made two arrests in Ruthenian hall, in Monessen on Sunday, during a labor meeting, for carrying conceaaled weapons. One of the defendants was given a hearing before Burgess Stewart this morning and fined $25 and costss. The meeting was not dusturbed.

Mrs. L. P. Flickinger, Mrs. R. A. Roberts, Mrs. W. C. Sutherland and Mrs. J. W. Hunter were in Monongahela last Friday afternoon and attendeda victory party held by the suffragists at the home of Mrs. H. C. Sutman.

Miss Ada B. Kaufle, the Western Union manager, and Mrs. A. J. Shebeck and daughter Dorothy of Meadow avenue left Monday for Philadelphia where they will visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mitchell and family and Mrs. Ernest Dorbritz, Sr., of Parnassus and Mrs. Amelia Wilt of Pittsburg visited with relatives in Charleroi Sunday.

The police made two arrests on Saturday night for drunkenness and fighting, and both of the prisoners put up forfeits for their appearance or a hearing this evening.

Camouflage in Reverse.

Reversal of the camouflage principle, greatly increasing the visibility of its subjects instead of concealing them by blending them with the background, is declared a possible peace development by the naval officer who developed that particular nature-faking system. Since every positive has its negative, color applications opposite to those used for confusing the eye are being studied for a possible standardized system of making distant objects conspicuous.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Extracting Salt From Ocean.

Experiments in Norway with a view to extracting salt from ocean water by means of electricity have been successful, and two salt factories will be started for this purpose in the near future. Each factory is calculated to produce 50,000 tons of salt a year for a start. but they will be so built that the production can be brought up to double the quantity, if necessary. Besides the salt, different by-products will be made.

Chinese Superstition.

Superstition is rampant in China and when Chen Ying Yin, a trader in Straits Settlements, after his return to Kaping, his own village, proposed to open the lands along Fel Ngo mountain as a field for grazing, his suggestion could hardly be carried out as his villagers bitterly protested against the project on account of their belief in "Fung Sui," a superstition relating to the locations of places.

WANTED!

A home woman who has some time outside of home duties, who would like to turn such time into money.

The work is just splendid, and such as to attract only the genteel woman of ability and influence in her community.

SCHOOL GIRL TELLS OTHERS

How They Can Find Relief From Periodic Sufferings.

Nashua, N. H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I had such pains that I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and decided to try it, and that is how I found relief from pain and feel so much better than I use to. When I hear of any girl suffering as I did I tell them how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me."—DELIA MARTIN, 29 Bowers St., Nashua, N. H.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, therefore is a perfectly safe remedy to give your daughter, who suffers from such painful periods as did Miss Martin.

The reason so many girls write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice, is because from their 40 years experience they have a store of knowledge which is invariably helpful.

STRONG SENSE OF HONESTY

Of Course It Was That, and No Other Reason, Which Caused Volunteer's Action.

Loton Horton, the milk magnate, was talking about the terrific New York milk strike.

"Oh, well," he said, apropos of an opponent's honesty—"oh, well, we're all honest when it pays to be. We're all more or less like the volunteer."

"The volunteer?" said the reporter.

"It's a story," Mr. Horton explained. "A movie actress, the prettiest movie actress in Los Angeles, was conducting a recruiting campaign at a bazar, and she guaranteed to kiss every young man who would volunteer to fight for Uncle Sam.

"Well, there were lots of volunteers, of course, and the actress permitted each of them to kiss her, and they did so, while the crowd laughed and applauded, in a polite, gentlemanly manner.

"But one volunteer seemed to lose his head. He threw his arms about the lovely actress and kissed her with such abandon that she was almost suffocated, and had to push him away. Yes, she pushed him away, her eyes blazing, but he stalked off to the recruiting office without a word of apology.

"An hour later the fellow dashed into the hall again, seized the actress once more in his arms, and pressed his lips to hers in a kiss more passionate than before. Again she pushed him off.

"'You fresh chump,' she hissed, 'what do you mean? You had your kiss an hour ago!'

"'But the recruiting office turned me down,' he said, 'and so, like an honest man, I had to give it back to you, didn't I?'"

DRANK TOAST TO WILHELM

Field Marshal Hindenburg and Army Staff Observed the Birthday of the Former Kaiser.

From a report of the Cassel Allgemeine Zeitung, as cited in the Vossiche Zeitung, it appears that, despite all denials, the ex-kaiser's birthday was celebrated at the Germany army headquarters. The journal says that Marshal von Hindenburg referred to the ex-kaiser as follows:

"Even people of different views would consider it cowardice and disloyalty if we should hesitate to admit frankly that we are thinking today with love, gratitude, reverence and great sorrow of the kaiser, to whom we have hitherto devoted our lives and our actions, and for whom we were ever ready to stake our blood and our treasure for the welfare of the fatherland. May God bless him and give him strength to bear the heavy burden which God's inscrutable will has placed upon him. Let us drink a silent toast to his health with this sincere wish from our loyal hearts."

Where Huns Were Inferior.

There is a noteworthy example of the preservation of valuable military secrets in the interesting article written by the secretary of the British Geographic society entitled "German War Maps and Surveys." British methods of survey and mapmaking were far superior to the enemy's, and one conspicuous success was scored in the scientific development of sound ranging for artillery. They used a self-recording apparatus, an ingenious and delicate piece of mechanism, which was used during the battle of Arras in April, 1917. The idea upon which it was based must have been known to a great many persons, both soldiers and civilians, but it never reached the enemy, though how much he desired to obtain it was revealed by Ludendorf's issue of an order in which he insisted upon the importance of capturing a set of these instruments. Until practically the end of the war German sound ranging was done with stop watches, a hopelessly crude and inaccurate arrangement in comparison with the scientific British system.—Indianapolis Star.

Experiments of the bureau of entomology, United States department of agriculture, have demonstrated that naphthalene is uniformly effective in protecting woolens from clothes moth infection and in killing all stages of the insect, says the Des Moines Register. A red cedar chest readily killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae. It did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all of the resulting larvae almost immediately. Red cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the flannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.

Not New to Her.

Beatrice was invited to a birthday party and, womanlike, she wanted a new frock. Her mother finding the child's party dress in good condition, refused to buy another. Her father, trying to console his little daughter, said: "Let me see the dress, Beatrice."

She brought it and he said: "Why, Beatrice, it is very pretty! I've never seen it before."

"Well," responded the child, "I've seen it offin."

Stung.

"Fine day, isn't it?"

"Sir, you have the advantage of me! I don't know you."

"H-m! I fail to see the advantage."
